Inflation

The inflation rate is a measure of how prices are changing over time. It is calculated as the percentage change in the level of prices (CPI) between two time periods.

Each month, across Abu Dhabi, SCAD collects the prices of hundreds of goods and services (collectively called the 'basket'). The total cost of this basket for a given month is calculated as an index number (e.g. 123.5). This index number is called the Consumer Price Index or CPI.

Main Expenditure Groups

Weights

Households will spend more on some expenditure groups than other groups. To represent the average spending patterns of consumers, the calculation of the CPI uses weights. That is, the goods and services in the basket are weighted according to the share they constitute of the total consumer spending. In other words, if the household spending for a given month was AED 1,000, then, on average, "Food and beverages" might represent AED 161 (or 16.1 percent), while "Housing", would represent AED 379, or 37.9 percent of total expenditure.

"Food and non-alcoholic beverages" group accounted for 37.4% of the overall increase occurring during November 2013 compared with the same period of 2012, due to higher average prices of this group increased by 3.8%.

"Clothing and footwear" group 16.4% . this contribution resulted mainly from an increase of 3.8% in the prices of the group.

"Restaurants and hotels" The price increase by 8.6%, during November 2013 compared with the same period 2012.

"Transport" group which contributed 10.4% of the total increase during November 2013 compared with the same period of 2012. This contribution resulted from an increase of 2.0% in the prices of this group.

Key points: • The inflation rate of consumer prices was 1.8% in November 2013 compared with same month in 2012.
• The CPI increased by 0.1% in November 2013 compared with October 2013.
